WINE LIST

You're holding in your hands the first wine list ever curated in its entirety by one of the world's most acclaimed wine critics, James Suckling, CEO/ Editor JamesSuckling.com.

He has rated more than 200,000 wines in his career and annually reviews more than 22,000 wines from key wine regions in France, Italy, Spain, Argentina, Chile, California, and Germany, even Thailand.

He rates the wines on a 100-point system: 95 points or more, fantastic quality; 90 points or more, outstanding quality, and 85 points or more, very good quality.

All wines featured on this list received a score of a minimum of 90 points and represent a very personal selection of wines that James enjoys drinking on his visits to The Nai Harn.

Instead of using traditional categories for wines in the list, James has organized them by style and usage, whether it's a fresh and crisp Thai Colombard for the pool or a structured red Bordeaux at dinner.

We hope you enjoy the selection.

Clearly the best dry wine I ever tasted from this great site! Perfectly ripe yellow peach nose with a delicate hint of smoke. Packed with ripe fruit, the muscularity of an Olympic sprinter, but this wine will go on and on long after those sprinters go into retirement. The dazzling acidity turns the finish into a fireworks display of minerals.

A phenomenal red with aromas of blackberries, licorice, sandalwood and hot stones that turns to cigar box and hints of sweet tea. Full body, incredible depth and concentration, yet there's also agility and playfulness to this. Long, fascinating and balanced. It talks to you. The greatest Seña ever. (Wine-maker and owner agree.) ABOUT JAMES SUCKLING

James Suckling is one of today's leading wine critics, whose views are read and respected by wine lovers, serious wine collectors, and the international wine trade in general.

He is currently the wine editor for Asia Tatler Magazines and its nine luxury magazines in the region, including Hong Kong Tatler, Shangliu Tatler, Singapore Tatler, and Thailand Tatler.

However, most of his time is spent managing his own website, James-Suckling.com, as well as promoting his 100 Points wine glassware with Lalique, the famous French crystal house. He recently launched a limited edition wine briefcase with Lalique and Salvatore Ferragamo, the famous Italian fashion house.

Suckling spent nearly 30 years as Senior Editor and European Bureau Chief of American magazine The Wine Spectator, and as European Editor of Cigar Aficionado. On his departure from the magazines, Forbes called the Los Angeles-born writer "one of the world's most powerful wine critics."
